WASHINGTON.

France Mustn't Meddle with the Panama Canal.

MR. MORROW'S ANTI-CHINESE EFFORTS.

Alleged Probable Change in the Cabinet—Legislation Asked Against Bad Wines—The Lincoln-Grant Bridge.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The Chair laid before the Senate a conference report on the Postoffice Appropriation bill, stating that the committee was unable to agree (question being on subsidy provision).

Mr. Plumb moved that the Senate insist on its amendment (the subsidy appropriation), and ask a further conference. After debate the amendment was agreed to—yeas, 33; nays, 13; the Democrats voting with the Republicans in the affirmative were Messrs. Brown, Call, Eustis.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

A MONUMENTAL BRIDGE.

Senator Spooner to-day submitted amendment to the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill to appropriate $10 000 to enable the Secretary of War to prepare suitable plans, drawings and specifications, and to ascertain and estimate soundings, size and foundation for piers, and cost of the Lincoln-Grant monumental bridge, with suitable approaches, from Observatory Point in this city across the Potomac River to Arlington Gate.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Under a call of States a bill was introduced by Mr. Randall to reduce and equalize duties on imports, to reduce internal-revenue taxes, and to modify the laws in relation to the collection of the revenue.

Mr. King, of Louisiana, introduced the following:

"WHEREAS, The French government gave the assurance to the government of the United States that the project of De Lesseps was a private enterprise, for which the French government was in no wise responsible; and

WHEREAS, The extraordinary expenditures of the Panama Canal Company have caused it to appeal for aid to the Government of France, to assist it by authorizing a loan of 600,000,000 francs for the purpose of continuing the work of construction, and

WHEREAS, It is reported that the French Government has recently recommended to the Chamber of Deputies to grant the necessary authorization; and

WHEREAS, Such authorization will identify the French Government with the enterprise;

Resolved, That the United States will view with great solicitude and disfavor this contemplated action of the French government, or any other measure calculated to identify it with the Panama Canal, as such action is opposed to the policy of the American people, as expressed by the Chief Executive of the United States at the inception of this canal, and which policy is now most emphatically repeated and reiterated by the United States.

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be requested to send to Congress, without delay, all correspondence bearing on this subject of such importance and fraught with such danger to national interests.

A PETITION FROM THE WINE MEN.

A petition, signed by the most prominent importers of foreign wines, dealers in domestic wines and wholesale grocers of New York, has been forwarded to Senator Warner Miller, to be presented to Congress. The petitioners represent that the existing law (section 3328 of the Revised Statutes) taxing imitation and spurious wines has not been enforced, for reasons which officers of the government may explain.

It is generally understood that this law can be made to operate by additional legislation and with such changes as Congress, in its wisdom, may decide to be proper. The enforcement of this law would prevent the loss of revenue to the Government, and would, by reason of stamps affixed to packages, benefit the public by enabling consumers and physicians to distinguish between pure and spurious wines.

MORROW GETS IN HIS WORK.

The House resumed discussion of the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. Mr. Morrow of California moved to amend the bill by increasing from $5500 to $10,000 the appropriation to meet expenses incurred under the Chinese Immigration act, and by adding a provision requiring the Secretary of the Treasury to cause to be prepared preliminary and return certificates identifying more particularly than at present the Chinese to whom they are granted. He went on to point out defects in the present law, declaring that the law was evaded in a most shameful manner. The certificates now used, instead of preventing the introduction of Chinese labor, are an aid to immigration. Defects in the law exist in privileges accorded to certain classes of Chinese by treaty to come and go at pleasure. Chinese laborers are constantly coming to the country under pretense of belonging to one or the other of the classes. The condition of the Pacific Coast, so far as the Chinese question is concerned, is worse than ever before, and if Congress knew the whole truth on that question, the Burlingame treaty would not be in existence one hour. He presented a petition prepared under auspices of the Knights of Labor of the Pacific Coast, and signed by fifty thousand persons, asking that some action be taken which would forever prohibit Chinese immigration. After debate Morrow's amendment was adopted without division.

RANDALL KICKS IT OVER.

In the afternoon session Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, stated that he had understood that the vote on Morrow's amendment, which was adopted this morning, would not be taken until afternoon. He, therefore, asked unanimous consent that the vote be annulled. This was agreed to, and then Morrow's amendment was rejected—74 to 91.

Changes Probable.

WASHINGTON, Monday, June 28.—It is stated on good authority that a change in the Cabinet is contemplated. Garland is to resign before October, and Bissell, of New York, the President's former law partner, is mentioned as his successor, to keep the geographical composition of the Cabinet harmonious.

It is said that ex-Senator Davis, of West Virginia, will be called to the Treasury Department.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

First Through Train from Montreal to Vancouver.

MONTREAL, June 28.—The first through train to Vancouver on the Canadian Pacific Railroad left here at 8 p. m. Many of the most prominent men in the city, including representatives of all commercial bodies, and thousands of other citizens, witnessed its departure, and the field battery fired a salute of fifteen guns.

A POUNDING HAIL.

Heavy Storm Damage to Crops in Dakota.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 28.—A Grafton, Dakota, special to the Pioneer Press says: A strip of country twenty miles long by two miles wide, around Lakota, was pounded bare of crops by a terrible hail storm Saturday. The Norwegian church near Grafton was blown to kindling wood. The damage to crops is estimated at $50,000.

THE STRIKES.

Trains at Last Moving Out of Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Winchester rifles rested on the shoulders of the Pinkerton men as they made their appearance at the Lake Shore freight yards this morning. The first thing they attended to was to drive every one from the tracks. The strikers and their adherents congregated just outside of the right of way, excitedly discussing the situation. Deputy Sheriff Gleason appeared at Forty-first street, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, accompanied by six deputies. This is the first time since the strike began that any representative of the Sheriff has appeared on the ground. The deputy read the Riot Act at four points along the line, and the police and deputies then began to clear the tracks.

THE BLOCKADE RAISED.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The Lake Shore Railway Company has at last succeeded in raising the freight blockade. At 12:15 the switch engines which had been busy in the yards making up a train steamed into the side tracks and the regular engine coupled to the freight train. The special police, with their Winchester rifles ready, stood by on the alert. Their guns were too much for the crowd, and not one attempt was made to interfere with the movement. Other trains soon followed, reached South Chicago in safety, and passed the Indiana State line, and proceeded eastward without molestation. The officials of the road now think the strike ended.

OUR G. A. R. VISITORS.

The Committee on Entertainment Meets.

The general Committee of Arrangements for the reception of Grand Army visitors who may pass through Los Angeles whilst traveling to and fro' the Grand Army Encampment, to be held in San Francisco, in the early part of July, met in the Mayor's court room yesterday, at 4 p. m. Chairman I. R. Dunkelberger, of Frank Bartlett Post, was in the chair. There were present, also, J. R. Fletcher and E. J. Weed, of the same post; P. W. Tyler, of Gelcich Post; A. M. Thornton, A. W. Barrett and J. O. Oliver, of Stanton Post, and Abbot Kinney, E. F. Spence and M. L. Wicks, of the Citizens Committee.

The Committee on Hall reported that two halls could be obtained. On motion, the old Armory Hall, on Requena street, was ordered rented, at a cost of $150, for a period beginning on the 6th of July and ending on the 20th of September. The committee was also empowered to hire two janitors for that length of time, at the rate of $2 per day; and to make all final arrangements in regard to lighting the hall and renting seats.

Abbott Kinney was requested to notify the Pomological Society, and all fruit growers of Southern California, to send exhibits, and that they would be authorized to issue and distribute in the Hall pamphlets describing and advocating their several districts. It was thought that the best time to forward exhibits of fruits would be from the 15th of August to the close of the entertainment.

The Finance Committee was increased to six, and reinforced by adding the names of Geo. Gebhardt, Wm. H. Workman and P. J. Gilmore.

I. W. Hellman was made treasurer of the General Committee, and it was moved that no money shall be drawn except as approved of by the majority of the Finance Committee, and the warrants shall be countersigned by E. A. Weed, Secretary, and approved by I. B. Dunkelberger, Chairman.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at 4 p. m. on the 6th of July, at Old Armory Hall, if not convened before that time by the Chairman.

PERKINS VS. BALDWIN.

Money is No Object, but Time Seems to be.

S. M. White telegraphed Wm. T. Williams yesterday that the writ of prohibition issued by the Supreme Court restraining Judge D. P. Hatch from hearing the motion for a new trial in the case of Perkins vs. Baldwin had been dissolved during the day. As the case then stood, nothing prevented Judge Hatch from listening to the motion, which was set for this morning, in Department No. 2 of the Superior Court. It seems, however, that "Lucky" was not yet deprived of all his artillery, for late yesterday afternoon, the Sheriff received a new alternative writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court to serve upon Judge Hatch. It stated that H. A. Unruh, on behalf of E. J. Baldwin, had represented to the Supreme Court that Judge Hatch, of Santa Barbara county, assumes to hold court in Los Angeles, and to hear and determine this motion for a new trial, without having been requested to do so by a Superior Judge of this county, notwithstanding the objections of the defendant. Unruh is afraid that, if Judge Hatch proceeds to hear and determine the motion, great and irreparable injury will be done the defendant, and he therefore prays, on behalf of his employer, for a writ of prohibition. For these reasons the Supreme Court command Judge Hatch to refrain and desist from further proceeding in the case of Louise Perkins vs. E. J. Baldwin, now pending in the Superior Court of this county, and that he show cause, at the Supreme Court-room, on the 29th day of June, 1886, at 2 p. m., why he should not be absolutely restrained and prohibited from any further proceedings in the case. The writ was served by Major George E. Gard, and Judge Hatch will not hear the case to-day.

AMUSEMENTS.

ZAMLOCH, THE CONJUROR.—A very fair sized audience was assembled at the Grand Opera House last evening to witness the performance of the so-called Austrian conjuror and exposer of Spiritualism. Zamloch is a parlor magician of the conventional type, in appearance a dapper little gentleman, smooth spoken, and fond of indulging in small witticisms which raise an easy laugh and assist in destroying the attention of the spectators. His tricks, as shown last night, comprise nothing that may be called new; for in the line of prestidigitation there is hardly anything new under the sun, but they are performed with an ease and dexterity which stamp the magician as an old practitioner.

The programme promises an entire change each night, and, judging from the performance of last evening, it will likely be quite entertaining. Not the least diverting act of the evening was the distribution of presents, given to the fortunate holders of numbered tickets found in the envelopes handed at the door on entering. Over a hundred gifts were distributed in this way, comprising articles of glassware, crockery, dress and household furniture and utensils. The gravity with which the long procession of people moved up to the stage and received their unexpected gifts was sometimes disturbed by the laughter of the spectators; as, for instance, when a well-known physician received a sack of potatoes, another a ham, another a sack of flour, and yet another a huge wash tub and wash board. The most valuable of the gifts consisted of a china tea set of forty-four pieces and a piece of silk eighteen inches long, which were duly presented and carried away.

A Good Man Gone.

The writer of the justly famous hymn: "When I can read my title clear to mansions in the skies," has long since been laid to rest, but the truth of his words are applicable to-day in this land of schemes and lotteries. When you can read your title clear, buy a lot, and not before. The Bonito tract gives each purchaser a perfect title without flaw. Furthermore, the Bonito tract is a straight land purchase, and no scheme, and lots are sold at a safe and reasonable price, so that no one need fear to invest even all of his savings. Think of it! Large lots, 52 ft by 128 feet, on Washington street, for $150. There are only eighty of them, and they are going fast. This is the best offer ever made in this town. It will pay to read the advertisement.

Examinations.

The entrance examinations for the University of Southern California begin tomorrow.

An Alleged Seducer Gets His Billet.

NO ONE TO BLAME FOR THE BOILERS.

Alleged Apache News—Killed by a Tarantula—Sentenced for Life—Drowned at San Diego—Etc. Etc.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The report of the investigation of the boiler explosion on board the steamer Mariposa, last February, outside the port of Honolulu, whereby three men were killed, was filed to-day by Government Inspectors with the supervising inspectors. The report concludes as follows: "Under the foregoing testimony and facts we cannot attach any blame to the chief engineer or his assistants, in connection with the accident."

TYLER ON TRIAL.

When the trial of George W. Tyler, on an indictment charging him with preparing a false affidavit signed by Isabella Clark, a witness in the celebrated Sharon case, came up before Judge Wilson and a jury to-day. W. B. Tyler, attorney for his father, asked leave to withdraw the motion argued and submitted on Friday last to dismiss the indictment, stating that testimony would be introduced for the defense. The court complied with Tyler's request. W. B. Tyler then addressed the jury for the defense, and said he expected to prove that, in April, 1884, the only time defendant ever saw Isabella Clark, she was of sound mind, and capable of comprehending what was said to her. Witness then testified on this point.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.

Larry Hluff, who was convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Matthew T. Eddy, proprietor of the Amador House, was to-day sentenced to imprisonment at Folsom for life.

A SOCIALIST SOAKED.

Francis Martin, one of the socialists arrested on the 16th of May, on the charge of obstructing the streets, today pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Coast Elections.

SAN JOSE, June 28.—The election on the question of issuing bonds to the sum of $300,000 for the purpose of public improvements, to-day, resulted in the defeat of the proposition; 1626 votes being polled, of which 763 were against the bonds.

ANTI PROHIBITION.

SEATTLE, W. T., June 28.—Elections were held throughout the Territory under the local option law to-day. There was a large vote polled with but little excitement. Prohibition was defeated in Seattle by a majority of 1030. All the larger towns in the Territory except Tacoma, Chehalis and Centralia give heavy majorities against prohibition.

The Arizona Operator Again Heard From.

CALABASAS, A. T., June 28.—A. L. Peck returned from Magdalena, this morning, where his niece, who was captured from the Apaches, now is. She says there is a renegade Mexican with the Apaches, who worked for Peck at Minas Prietas, in Sonora. It was through his intercession that Peck's life was saved. This renegade told Peck's niece that if he had known that the woman who was murdered was Peck's wife, her life would have been spared as his had been.

The recaptured girl says Geronimo is wounded in the shoulder, but not very badly. He and nine bucks left the camp where she was recaptured about two days before.

Shot Her Betrayer.

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—Jacob Kline, a member of the First Artillery band, was shot and instantly killed last night by Teenie Wiezel, at the corner of Ninth and J. streets. The girl, who is 20 years old, says Kline seduced her, and she shot him because he refused to marry her. She was arrested and taken to prison.

STONEMAN SURPRISES HIMSELF.

FRESNO, June 28.—Leonard Downing, six years old, out with a party of campers, was bitten by a tarantula on the thigh, Saturday last. Before treatment could be procured the child died.

CANADA.

The Fisheries Law Not to be Relaxed.

TORONTO, June 28.—The Mail's Ottawa correspondent denies, upon the highest authority, the statement that the Dominion Government, at the instance of the imperial authorities, has relaxed its measures for the protection of Canadian fisheries. On the contrary, there has been no interference of any kind on the part of the home government; and the Dominion Government is determined, in the future as in the past, to strictly enforce the law against United States fishing vessels found violating it.

OFFICIALLY VERIFIED.

OTTAWA, June 28.—It is officially learned that no change has taken place in the policy of the Dominion government in reference to the protection of Canadian fisheries in the line of a less vigorous enforcement of the law. The recent circular to collectors of customs was merely to make plain certain matters of interpretation. It is now, as it has always been, the policy of the Government that any United States fishing vessel found fishing, or preparing to fish, or known to have fished, in Canadian waters shall be seized at once and without warning. Twenty-four hours' warning is applicable solely to United States fishing vessels found hovering within limits.

For Parnell.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Parnell Parliamentary Fund Committee held its next to last meeting at the Hoffman House to-night. Nearly $10,000 was subscribed. Joseph J. O'Donohue cabled from Paris that he had instructed his son to pay in $1,000 for himself, and stated that the generous support given by the American people gave great courage to Parnell and Gladstone.

ELECTRIC ROADS.

Their History and General Method of Operating.

In view of the fact that Los Angeles has two electric street railroads in process of construction, and that it is proposed to give the city a service of considerably over a dozen miles of electric lines, information as to "how the old thing works" will be found interesting. Very few people have even an approximately lucid idea of the method by which the subtle spark becomes a motive agent; and you will hear folks speak of cables pulled by electricity, etc., enough to break Edison's heart.

The first electric railway built in the world was the handiwork of Thomas Davenport, a Vermont blacksmith, who began his experiments in 1834 with an electro-magnet weighing four pounds, from which a weight of 150 pounds could be suspended. In 1835, at Springfield, Mass., he built a small circular railway, on which he placed an electro-magnetic engine. The same year he exhibited in Boston for two weeks. The first electric railway on a useful scale was that of Siemens, exhibited at Berlin in 1879. It was a narrow-gauge, half a mile long, carried about twenty-five persons each way, and its maximum speed was twenty miles an hour. An electric railroad, a mile and a half long, has been running in a suburb of Berlin since 1881, and has never failed to carry its daily traffic. In the neighborhood of the Giant's Causeway, on the coast of Ireland, an electric railway six miles long has been in successful daily operation since November 5th, 1883. The electricity is supplied by a waterfall on the river Bush. The steepest grade is 200 feet to the mile. The road is paying 12 per cent. dividends, and it is proposed to extend it six miles. The electric railway on the beach at Brighton, England, has handled a heavy traffic for the past year without hitch or delay, the cars running incessantly twelve hours a day. The electric railway last opened in Great Britain runs between Newry and Bessbrook, a distance of three miles. The dynamos here also are worked by waterfall. The electric railway at Blackpool, England, two miles long, was opened last September. There are short electric lines on the Continent, including one two miles long in the suburbs of Vienna. The application of power from stored electricity has not yet been perfected, but it is likely to play a most important part in the electric world. Since March, 1882, an electric railway, using Faure accumulators, has been in operation at Bresil-en-Auge, France, with great practical success. Public experiments with the accumulators in the streets of London, Paris and Berlin have been very encouraging. In America the first electric railroad was opened to the public at Saratoga in 1883. One, operated on the Daft system, began its trips at Coney Island in the summer of 1884, and about the same time an electric railroad was put in use on the East Cleveland horse railroad. The most practical electric railway in this country is that running in one of the suburbs of Baltimore. It has a maximum grade of 275 feet to the mile. Some of the Lroads in New York are getting ready to use the electro-motor. Its application to them, Edison says, is now only a question of the draughtsman's work.

THE METHOD OF WORKING.

The system adopted by Col. C. H. Howland for the 13-mile network of electric roads, for which he was granted a franchise some months ago, is the aerial one. In the successful Baltimore road, the wire which transmits the power from the central station to the car is laid in a trough along the center of the track, where, over it, a fifth wheel of the dummy runs. This is unsightly, and a great obstruction in the streets. In the aerial system, a naked wire is suspended on poles parallel to the track, and carries the mysterious current from the engine-house out along the road. Upon this suspended wire runs a tiny box, called the contact carriage, which contains two sixteen inch wheels, to take up the electricity from the wire. From this contact carriage, a flexible cable runs to the motor in the car. The current passes down this cable, and through the convolutions of a coiled wire in the motor. Here, by mechanical contrivances, the electricity is made to give back the power which the dynamo consumed at the central station, with a loss of only 30 per cent. The revolution of the armature of the motor sets by gearing on the axles of the dummy wheels. The motor on the dummy is similar in appearance to the generator, only not quite so large. Any person who has seen the dynamos at the electric light works, see in them facsimiles of the motor. The control of the motor (that is, its stopping and reversal), is done by a simple lever switch, and so simple and easy that a child five years old can control it. The lever throwing the brushes on the commutator, either forward or back, reverses the course of electricity through the motor. The electric current is generated at the central station, where a complete power plant, boilers, engine and dynamos, with necessary automatic devices for controlling the current, are placed.

The electric current is then conveyed by the overhead wire to the motor, whence, after performing its work, it is returned by the car track to the dynamo.

The motor is not on the same axle with the driving-wheel, but is connected to it by intermediate gearing.

As the motor revolves at a high speed and the car-wheels at a comparatively low speed, it is necessary to "gear down," within the limit of speed allowed by law. The average speed of cars propelled by electricity is 12 miles an hour, but they can be easily run at 30 miles an hour.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

High School Alumni Reception to the Class of '86.

The reception given by the High School Alumni to the graduating class of '86, at New Armory Hall last night, was a very pleasant event. The hall was filled with bevies of gaily-dressed maidens and ladies, escorted by the fine fleur of Los Angeles' young men. George W. Williamson was the very efficient floor manager, and the committees were constituted as follows:

Executive committee—Chas. John Bloeser, Alice Fitch, L. A. Mendelson, Arthur Bent.

Reception committee—Mrs. H. M. Caystile, Fannie Kelisher, Mary Foy, Florence Potts, Theodore Savage, T. E. Bowan, Jr., Albert Lang, Wm. Bachelor.

The following is the programme of the exercises that took place, which, owing to want of space, cannot be commented upon:

1. Instrumental duet, Alice Fitch and Minnie Hamilton.
2. Address to Class of '86, Margaret F. Philipson, President.
3. Response by Herman Lichtenberger.
4. Vocal solo, Miss M. D. Brown.
5. Essay, L. A. Mendelson.
6. Instrumental solo (selected), Mrs. E. Jennings.
7. Recitation, Miss Agnes McLain.
8. Vocal solo, Marcus Snook.
9. Essay, "Old Maids," Miss A. Mathews.
10. Selection, High School Quartette.

After the exercises dancing became in order and was kept up for several hours with great good will by the alumni, the Class of '86 and all their admiring friends.

Ripe Cantaloupes.

The TIMES was presented yesterday with some ripe cantaloupes, which are rather scarce yet in Southern California at this time of the year. Only one or two, so far, have been seen in the market. The specimens now at this office were received from J. G. McCallum, of 131 Main street, whose son raised them on his ranch at Palm Valley, four miles south of Seven Palms station, on the Southern Pacific railroad. The climate of Palm Valley is an exceptional one, some fruits ripening there as much as two months earlier than in any other part of the State. Palm Valley has been reveling in ripe cantaloupes for the last three weeks.

The motion to dismiss the information for assault with a deadly weapon pending against J. C. Gormley was heard yesterday by Judge Cheney, and taken under advisement.

BA'ER LABOUCHERE'S LITTLE LIBEL.

Bismarck's Request Inaugurated—Another Bory to Cross the Atlantic—The Comte de Paris's Manifesto.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

LIVERPOOL, June 28.—Gladstone, this afternoon, addressed the electors of Liverpool in Hengler's Circus. He was received with boundless enthusiasm. The circus was crowded to its utmost capacity, 5,000 persons being present. Hundreds of people, unable to gain admittance, crowded around the outside. Mr. Gladstone said the enthusiasm in favor of home rule surpassed anything he had witnessed during his life. The Liberal party, he said, was, as a rule, not supported by dukes, 'squires, clergymen of the established church, officers of the army, and so forth. The question was whether the masses were able constitutionally to overbear the classes; because it had always been shown that wherever truth, justice and humanity were concerned, the masses were in the right and the classes in the wrong. Parliament, he said, had been paralyzed because of the Irish question, and it would remain paralyzed unless some measures of justice were passed.

Field Wouldn't Have It.

LONDON, June 28.—When the case of Cyrus W. Field against Labouchere, editor of Truth, for libel, was called for hearing, the Attorney General, on behalf of Labouchere, withdrew the plea of justification and expressed Labouchere's regret for publishing the article, and stated that he and Sir Henry James, Field's counsel, had agreed upon the amount that would be paid by Labouchere in satisfaction of the costs, and asked the Judge to discharge the jury. It is understood that for several days Labouchere's counsel has been wanting to have the case settled by his making an apology and retraction, and not paying anything for costs. This Field refused to accept.

MUNICH, June 28.—Prince Luitpold was to-day formally made Regent of Bavaria, to administer the affairs of the kingdom during the occupation of the throne by King Otto, the insane successor of Ludwig. The ceremony was performed in the throne room of the residence schloss, in the presence of the ministry and a majority of Parliament.

THE TELEPHONE.

Wonderful Development of its System.

The telephone has become so much of an indispensable institution to the United States that the growth of its use has been very much lost sight of, just as always occurs in all matters without which people cannot do. In Los Angeles county this development has been perhaps greater than anywhere else, and accomplished in such a manner that anyone unacquainted with the extent of the telephone system of this section, could not possibly make an approximately correct guess of its extension. The telephone was practically unknown here four years ago. To-day its use is an indispensable necessity to business and professional persons and for those who live in the suburbs to be without a telephone is almost as bad as to be out in the woods. There are actually in use to-day in Los Angeles county 550 telephones, necessitating over 400 miles of wire. Of this considerable network, 210 miles are employed to connect the city with thirty outside towns in the county. A steadily increasing demand for telephonic communication by the owners of business houses and private residences is one of the remarkable features of the system. As an instance of the popularity of the instrument, it may here be mentioned that E. F. Hinder, the present manager, has registered no less than 100 new subscribers since the time he assumed charge of the office, and this was but two months ago. In that time seven small towns have also been connected with the Central office. On the 23d inst. communication was established with Florence, Vernon and Lynwood, and two or three other small towns will be connected within a short time with this city.

In the Central operating room business has been increasing apace, so that at present no less than eight operators are at work there. Though there have at times been complaints made of the inefficiency of the service at that office, this state of affairs has now ceased to exist. One of the causes of the improvement is no doubt the increase of the staff. Another is the introduction of a fine new multiple switch-board which went into operation on the first of the month. This constantly increasing business necessitates frequent editions of books containing all the names of subscribers. Though it is not long since that a catalogue was printed, the necessities of the telephone system of Los Angeles demand a new one, and this may be expected by the 1st of July.

FOUND AT LAST.

Peter Larcher's Body Discovered in a Grain Field.

It will be remembered that early in May—about the 7th—Peter Larcher, of this city, brother of Joseph Larcher, of the Eintracht saloon, disappeared. He was last seen near Fulton Wells, crazed by drink. A reward was offered, and searching parties were sent out, but in vain. Yesterday, however, a farmer, a mile from Fulton Wells, raked up the body in his grain field. Larcher was lying upon the ground, with his coat under his head, and had apparently died of alcohol and exposure. An inquest will be held to-day.

Picking Up Fire Points.

THE WHITE SCALE.

A Startling Statement as to its Increase.

Some weeks ago Council appointed a special committee—Messrs. Breed, Willard and Stearns—to see if the Fruit Pest Inspectors had earned their salaries. The committee has been investigating the matter very carefully, and commends the inspectors for faithful work, but finds that they have been unable to compete with the scale-bug, which the committee finds is much more numerous than it was last year. The concluding portion of the committee's report follows, and further interesting matter on the same subject will be found in the Council proceedings.

"In just what condition the orange orchards would be in at this time if no steps had been taken to destroy the pest we are unable to say. But if, as many scientific men assure us and as we believe, these bugs are destructive to orange trees, it does not take much of a mathematician to figure out the length of time it will take these prolific bugs to get work with every orange tree in the city limits; provided, of course, that they are allowed to increase and multiply in the future as they have during the past year. As the orange tree is one of our chief attractions and figures, to some extent in the price of corner lots, such a result is not very desirable and ought to be, if possible, avoided.

"Your committee is of the opinion that by far the greater portion of the people are not aware of the magnitude and increasing danger which threatens not only our fruit trees, but our entire vineyards as well. We attribute this fact to the policy adopted by parties interested to keep the matter as quiet as possible.

"We believe that the true status of the matter should be known, and the sooner the people are made aware of it the better it will be for the pecuniary interests of the people and the future prosperity of the city. If there is any way of destroying these pests we would urge the necessity of taking up arms at once and moving in a body against them. With this end in view we would recommend

First—That the City Attorney draft an ordinance to amend an ordinance governing this matter, in such a way as to enable the Inspectors to not only compel the owners of infected trees to commence to clean them, but to prosecute their work to an actual finish.

Second—That the Police Commissioners be requested to appoint sufficient Inspectors to do the work thoroughly and afterwards to see that they do it.

Third—That the Supervisors be requested to appoint more Inspectors, and, in order to prevent confusion and promote harmony among the Inspectors, we would suggest that the Board of Police Commissioners and the County Board of Horticultural Commissioners consult together in regard to the districts assigned to the different Inspectors.

Art in Our Public Schools.

The world at large is beginning to recognize the fact that, in order to attain the complete development of our mental strength, all of our powers must be cultivated and carefully trained. There seems to exist a sort of vehement readiness to admit that the old beaten educational track in which the school children journeyed a generation or two ago, is not broad enough for the children of to-day, and that it can be safely widened so as to embrace many things which our forefathers would have looked upon as foolish superfluities, but which we, with clearer intellectual foresight, recognize as essential to a complete, well-rounded mental life.

We begin to recognize that the hand is a wonderful helper to the eye; that its creative power is a masterful aid in conveying knowledge to our mental grasp and fixing it upon our memory. We may look upon a picture and forget it and the truth which it explains; but let us create that picture ourselves, the carefully-educated and skillful hand working with the eye and portraying faithfully our mental conceptions, and the work which we thus do memory does not lose sight of. In every line drawn by the pencil, in every color portrayed by the brush of the pupil, is fixed some thought.

Any one who has observed what has been accomplished in the public schools of the country through the introduction of Industrial Drawing, and who has watched closely the drawing out tendency which this has upon the mind of the pupil, its quickening power over the perceptive faculties, and the advance to which it tends beyond that national rawness and esthetic barrenness which so long characterized us, would rather see almost anything else stricken out from the educational programme of our school system than this branch of Industrial Drawing.

While it educates the child in so many directions, leading him to observe closely the beauty and variety of [illegible] made use of [illegible] providing the pupil [illegible] means for future support.

For the skilled designer there is in this esthetic age a wide field for work. It is worth a great deal to have your mind at your finger ends, so that they can carry its fine conceptions of outline, form and color, and place them in beautiful array upon whatever material may be prepared for their reception. Into what close and intimate relation it brings mind and matter! How the one supplements the other, showing them both essential to completeness.

Of the progress which the public schools of Los Angeles have made under the wise and judicious training and supervision of their Art Superintendent, Mrs. C. P. Bradfield, the city may well feel proud. The schools of this city, in the proficiency of their industrial drawing, and in results produced, do not fall behind those of the larger cities of the Union in the different parts of the country. Yet, probably but a small minority of the public has any idea whatever of the work in this direction that is being done in the schools of the different grades in this city. They would learn with astonishment that the architect, the decorator, the manufacturer of fine wall papers, of oil cloths and fire screens, the tile-maker, the woodcarver, the cabinet-maker and artists in every line could find among the work of the pupils in our public schools finished and pleasing designs suited to all their needs. It would be a pleasant thing for them to look over these drawings, beginning with the work of the little ones of the seventh and eighth grades, and mark the progress made as they go up, step by step, to the work accomplished in the first, or highest grade. They would be surprised at the distance lying between the first crude efforts of the beginners, and the finished character of the work shown in the original drawings and coloring for stained cathedral windows, and the beautiful and original designs for the decorator's art. The first are but the simple alphabet of art, the last its finished form.

There are between three and four thousand children in the schools of this city, and each child is supplied with material for drawing, and each one is required to originate designs—there is no copying done, and among all the drawings no two are alike. Their judicious teacher has left to her pupils their individuality, and not chained it to any circumscribed round, beyond which it might not traverse. Vigor and vitality are characteristics of most of the work accomplished, and the refreshing lack of insipidity is noticeably apparent.

It is pleasant to note the advance of progressive Los Angeles in all directions, but in no one is it more so than in that of her ever-broadening educational facilities, for in these lies the best security for her future success and greatness.

A well-informed material man gives it as his opinion that there are two hundred and sixty buildings in course of erection in Los Angeles at this time. A number of these are large blocks. This is the regulation "summer dullness" exploded in our booming town.

Mr. Willard thought there should be no discrimination. Mr. Goss thought all the city employes wanted a raise. They should resign if they couldn't stand the wages. Referred to special committee of three, Messrs. Stearns, Holbrook and Jones.

THE NEW CITY HALL.

Special committee (Messrs. Willard, Perry, Kuhrts and Stearns reporting) on construction of new city hall, recommended:

First—To accept bid of Thos. Coply for excavating city hall lot at 39 cents per cubic yard, City Attorney to draw contract. So ordered.

Second—That Clerk advertise for bids for brick-work in one week, according to specifications with Boring & Haas. So ordered.

THE FRUIT-PEST INSPECTORS.

Special Committee on the Fruit-Pest Inspectors reported that they found the Inspectors had done great good by their work, but in spite of them the white scale is far more numerous than it was a year ago. The City Attorney should draft a new ordinance compelling orchard-owners to commence work at once and carry it through; and there should be more Inspectors to see that the work is done. Mr. Jones said that the Inspectors should be compelled to make frequent reports.

Mr. McMullen, of the county corps of Inspectors said he didn't believe the people have any idea how bad the pest is.

Mr. Stearns said there are a good many people who don't care about their orchards, because they calculate to sell the land in lots. The new ordinance should give the city power to condemn and destroy the trees in such cases. The weeds along the zanjas and roads are full of the scale.

Mr. McMullen said he considered the orange orchards of the city as already gone. They were too full of bugs to save, and the land is too valuable for lots. The Wolfskill orchard can never be saved. The Inspectors haven't had sufficient power.

George Compers said that there is a city law, a county law and a State law, and two corps of Inspectors, and everything is mixed up. All that is necessary is to enforce the State law. The evil can't be reached by ordinance. We have spent about $3000 in our orchard to get out $2000 worth of oranges.

The report of the committee was adopted. Mr. Jones moved for a committee of five, one from each ward, to confer with the Police Commissioners, Inspectors and county authorities as to best means of abating the pest. Carried. Committee, Messrs. Jones, Kuhrts, Goss, Perry and Frankenfield.

Mr. Bree moved that Superintendent of Streets clean zanjas and streets whenever notified by the Inspectors. Carried.

FIRST STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Special committee on cut and fill of First street, east of river (Messrs Kuhrts, Goss and Sinsabaugh), recommended that city have the proposed improvement done by contract, putting the street on grade, the top of the fill to be forty feet wide, cost not to exceed $2000, and parties in interest to pay half cost. Motion to adopt lost, Messrs. Johnson and Frankenfield voting no.

Mr. Breed moved the chain-gang be removed from the Chaves ravine and put to work on First street. He wasn't aware that Boyle Heights was asking an unjust share, and scored on the picayune policy of shutting out Boyle Heights because she was across the river.

Mr. Frankenfield said the necessity for this improvement rests on the fact that a street railway is to be laid there.

Mr. Workman was heard. He asked to be allowed to put up trestlework over this stretch, on the south side of the street.

Mr. Perry moved that this be granted. Referred to Board of Public Works.

The motion to move the chain-gang was lost, Frankenfield, Goss, Jones, Johnson, Sinsabaugh voting no.

Bid for flume on Figueroa street: Peter Keenan, 38 cents per foot. Committee on Zanjas.

Bids for conduit on zanja madre: Eabridge & Tossel, $5.25 per foot; John McQuilken, $3.38; man-holes and catch-basins, $400 extra; A. McNally, $4.97; Frank C. Young, $5.45. Committee on Zanjas.

PETITIONS.

D. Amestoy, Hellman, Haas & Co., and H. Newmark & Co., to have fire-limits extended. Committee on Fire and Water.

Richmond Fire Alarm Co. to be allowed to use Oregon pine instead of Redwood poles. Special committee, with power to act.

Invitation from J. B. Lankershim, Grand Marshal of 4th of July celebration, to occupy carriages in the procession, and other wise participate. Accepted.

The remaining petitions, a lot of them, were ordered referred to the proper committees, and Council adjourned at 5:45.

Benton's Hair Grower.

All who are bald, all who are becoming bald, all who do not want to be bald, all who are troubled with dandruff, or itching of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. Eighty per cent. of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years. We have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow hair in eighty cases out of a hundred, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a Hair food and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

FIRE AT SAN PEDRO.

A $20,000 Conflagration Visits Our Seaport Town.

"Hard Tack," the TIMES correspondent at San Pedro, forwards the following excellent report of the calamity which befel that town Sunday morning:

"At about twenty minutes past 2 o'clock yesterday morning the people of San Pedro were startled from their slumbers by a tremendous explosion, which was followed by cries of "fire! fire! fire!" Great volumes of smoke and flame could be seen issuing from the store of Phillips & Lees. Soon the streets were crowded with excited people, some of them dressed only in their night clothes. It seemed certain from the beginning that the entire block of buildings were doomed, as no water could be obtained from the hydrants. In a few moments the large business house and dwelling of E. Anderson was on fire, while the saloon owned by Alex Olsen was next seen to be burning. On the streets all was confusion and dismay. The wailing of terrified women mingled with coarse shouts of drunken sailors, with an occasional sturdy order from some cool-headed citizen, suggesting some method of checking the fast-spreading flames. At last a stream of water was produced from the bay, by the aid of a locomotive, although it was not sufficient to stop the fiery fiend from eating one after another the houses of the entire block, constructed and stored as they were with inflammable material. Finally, by tearing down the Leading Wind saloon, which was separated from James Hellman's store and the post-office by a very narrow street, the fiery element was confined to the block above-mentioned; otherwise, the entire business portion of the town would most certainly have been destroyed. As it was, within an hour from the time of the explosion, nearly $20,000 worth of property was laid in ashes. The fire is generally supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Your correspondent was enabled to obtain the following list of losses:

Edward Anderson, $7000, insured for $3000; Hop Lun, $500, no insurance; Teitzer & Grethe, $400, no insurance; Fritz Weidwald, $2500, with $600 insurance; Charles Clemmens, $300, no insurance; H. Newmark, $1000, $500 insurance; Mr. Malstadt, $1200, $700 insurance; Mr. Mackerel, $1000; J. W. Hellman, $500, fully insured. The loss sustained by Alex. Olsen was not computed, he being absent from town. Mr. Isen claimed to be so stunned as to be unable to estimate the firm's losses until the return of his partner, Mr. Phillips. Several parties, including Hop Lun, the Chinese laundryman, propose to rebuild immediately.

TALLY—HO!

A Royal Ride on a Splendid Road.

A TIMES representative was yesterday invited to take a ride in the tally-ho coach, which leaves from 39½ Spring street four times daily, at 9:30 and 11 a. m. and 2:30 and 4 p. m. Recollecting that an early ride is generally the most pleasant, the reporter was promptly on hand at 9:30, and, after a critical examination of the tally-ho, which was favorable to that vehicle, embarked into it without misgivings. It is a comfortable, yes, sumptuous coach with upholstered seats, drawn by four trusty steeds and with an excellent driver. The ride was through Spring and Main streets to Washington Gardens, and then along Washington street. The roads were good, the air balmy and delightful; shade was plenty and dust there was none. The tally-ho rolled along merrily until the Bonito tract was reached, and then there was a general dismount to examine the new tract now placed within easy reach of every one. The Bonito tract is a perfectly level piece of ground situated near the Rosedale Cemetery and just far enough away from the center of the city to combine the advantages derived from a close proximity to it with those that a semi rural situation bring forth. At the rate that Los Angeles is building up now, and judging from the houses that are going up all around the Bonito tract, this genial rurality, however, will soon be a thing of the past. Indeed it lies but one block off the proposed Electric Railway, and is within two blocks of the horse cars. The tract is also on the line of the proposed extension of the Washington-street car line. The Bonito has been subdivided into eighty large lots, 52 3 wide by 128 feet deep. There are three sixty-foot wide avenues between each, twenty lots, to be called Euclid, Lumbard and Linden avenues. Each ten lots are divided by sixteen-foot alleys. Then, the avenues that encircle the whole tract are Washington street, Bonito, Cypress and Rosedale avenues. In order to bring these desirable lots within the grasp of all alike, the managers offer the land at easy terms: Twenty dollars down, and the balance in one year, without interest. At such rates, it is not to be expected that these lots will go a-begging very long, and would-be purchasers of land in the City of the Angels should avail themselves of a chance in the Royal Tally-ho, to see for themselves that the Bonito tract is filled with bargains.

A Speculation.

Sixty acres, with a fine house, orchard and vines, to some party who wants to subdivide a tract into lots. It has some of the finest building lots in the city, and will make 300 choice lots. This tract for sale in a body for a short time only, on the two-mile circle. BROWN & ADAMS, 18½ South Spring street.

All the streets to be planted with large shade trees. A Nursery of 3,500 trees of fine size now on the Tract for that purpose.

Payments on the instalment plan. 188 lots at $390 per lot. Monthly payments $20, without interest. FIRST PAYMENT $30.

Immediately adjoining the City Center Tract Eleventh, Twelfth and Pico streets, only two blocks west of Pearl street. The last first-class homestead for sale, located in the heart of the city, and level with Main and Spring streets. Rails now being laid for the

Electric Motor Road

On Pico street. Cars will be running in sixty days. Twelve minutes from Postoffice, Street cars to Pico and Pearl streets, within one and a half blocks. Electric Motor Railway will pass the entire property on Pico. Elegant improvements; streets with planked sidewalks with ornamental trees to be planted the entire length on both sides. Four beautiful villa residences; masts with electric lights without charge. Distribution of lots 6th of November of this year, and all improvements made and possession given at that time. Immediately adjoining the City Centre Tract lots, recently sold to the leading business people of Los Angeles.

Williamson Tract—188 Lots

This offering of first-class lots for residences in the midst of the handsomest improvements in Los Angeles will be the last opportunity to acquire centrally located lots at the owner's price per acre. Three hundred and ninety dollars is a nominal sum, and the payments are extended over one and a half years without interest. The location is within twelve minutes of the postoffice, with two lines of street cars (the Hellman line and the Electric Motor Railway) directly to the property.

The success of the homesteads of the Southern California Land Company is strictly owing to the low rate at which its properties are placed before the public, and the fact that it only offers first-class city locations. This Company points with just pride to the Childs Tract, Columbia Colony, Urmston Tract and the City Center Tract, the latter immediately adjoining the present lots.

A new feature of this beautiful property will be the planting of all the streets with large ornamental shade trees. A nursery of 4500 splendid trees of large size is already on the tract ready to be set out in the fall.

Careful gardeners will be employed by the Company to take charge of them for one year.

Four Handsome Villa Residences

TO BE ERECTED.

They will be all elegantly finished inside, in Eastlake style, even to the kitchens. The houses will be 32x38, parlor and chamber, with sliding doors, dining-room, large hall, spacious kitchen, bath-room and portieces.

There are no Narrow Streets and no side lots. Every street is 60 feet wide.

The masts for the electric lights are now being erected. Three masts, being four in number on the City Center and this tract, will illumine every lot and residence with a flood of light; an ornament, a necessity and a safeguard.

Planted Sidewalks, four feet wide, with substantial stringers, 2x6, will be placed on each side of every street.

Think of the location, Eleventh to Pico, and but two blocks from Pearl street.

The sale of this tract is on the homestead plan. The land is sold as an entirety, and delivered over to the subscribers with all the improvements of villa residences, planked sidewalks, electric lights, ornamental shade trees, etc., without further charge than the amount received in the aggregate from the subscribers, each one of whom has a vested right in the entire tract.

The meeting of the subscribers for the distribution of these lots is fixed for November 6, 1886. They agree to a mode of distribution (according to the Homestead Laws of 1862) on the same plan as that of the Childs tract, the Urmston tract and the City Center tract, all inaugurated by this firm.

The street railway on Pearl street, at the corner of Pico street, is within two blocks of the tract, and in sixty days Col. Howland's electric motor road will be completed on Pico street past this entire property.

LEGAL HOMESTEADS.

The best lawyers in Los Angeles state that the Childs Tract, Urmston Tract, City Center Tract and Williamson Tract do not consist of a mistake in the law of the State in making a division of the property among the purchasers of the property, giving a vested right to occupy their lots until the patenting by the Government of the tracts.

HOW MAIN STREET LAND

Is Given Away.

Fourteen-year-old seedling orange trees have an auction value; $15 each is an extremely low figure. No farmer would contract to grow them for that sum. It would not begin to pay him for his labor. In fact he would ridicule such an offer. Twelve trees to a 50x170 foot lot at that price would equal $180. The city improvements, such as ten beautiful dwellings, heavy plank walks, electric lights, etc., nearly exhaust the difference between $180 and $250, the price of each lot on the Co-operative Nursery Tract. The owner therefore asks less than cost of improvements, the land is thrown in free. This is why the offer of the Co-operative Tract is the lowest ever made in this city. There is not a capitalist in Los Angeles who would agree to furnish like improvements for $250, that is, contract to take new land and put on it what we offer, waiting 14 years for his money.

So, practically, a fine and sightly piece of land is given away without charge. Examine this offer every way you choose, realize the tract's location, in a direct line with the city's growth, on the highest paved street we have, you may then understand that a small investment at our figures will return you many fold increase within a very few years.

There is not a flaw of any kind in the property; every detail is perfect, including the title. This is a forced sale. Otherwise no such price would be made. The reason is explained by the managers.

Many subscribers have already realized what we say; a large proportion of the lots are already sold. The remainder are already taken, if we can only rely on the promises of apparently nine out of ten people. Five years hence this tract will be as near the city proper as Fourth and Main are now. What surer investment can one make. No other securities can begin to give like returns. Look around the cities in the United States. How many of their wealthy inhabitants became wealthy by real estate investments? Look at the United States statistics. What is the growing wealth of our country? Nine-tenths and more composed of real estate. Then do you know anybody who has not largely profited themselves by investments in real estate in Los Angeles? We do not. Many have become rich thereby. Don't hesitate, but invest a little. Our installments permit you to advantage yourself with slight or no inconvenience.

CONSUMPTION.

From consumers, "to waste away," usually applied to the advanced stage of lung disease.

The following are prominent symptoms in the first stage, and wherever any of them exist a thorough examination should always be made, with a view to arresting the disease before it has time to exist: There is usually a sense of weariness upon a little exertion, a disposition to remain passive and idle, despondency, often from no apparent cause, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effect of cold, and a breathlessness upon moving quickly or descending on a hill or stairs, a slight, hacking cough, with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, flying pains through the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night; slight fever in the afternoon; cold feet and hands, or in many cases blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails.

Constitutional or tubercular consumption is a common form of lung disease. The progress is slow, but if left to itself no less sure. It usually begins with a dry cough. At first these tubercules are exceedingly minute, the patient not at all suspecting their presence. Gradually they develop into more active disease, and then follows the train of symptoms which leaves no doubt as to its true character. Sometimes spitting of blood or slight streaks in the mucus is the first indication of tubercular deposit or it may be a chilly sensation in the back, followed by more or less heat in the palms of the hands, or an afternoon flush on the cheeks. The slow and gradual inroads of this form of consumption leave the stomach and appetite undisturbed for a considerable time. Finally, however, hectic fever and night sweats supervene, preceded by diarrhœa. Then the loss of flesh and strength becomes rapid, the chest contracts, the features sharp, the eye shines in unusual brilliancy, and the patient begins to realize that he is in the last stage of confirmed constitutional consumption.

It is when the disease is in the first stage that it should be eradicated, before the cough sets in, or the expectoration of mucus, and before the tubercules have softened. The inhalations will then completely absorb every tubercle in the lungs, and thus radically destroy that hereditary development of tubercular consumption.
